

We would like to thank the community for all your support and co-operation during the coronavirus pandemic.

While the pandemic keeps a hold on small businesses and townships, the team at Major's SUPA IGA has kept their heads held high and are working to keep things running.

“Our workers have been working different hours to restock and pack the store which means they have been able to reduce the number of staff working in store and less people put at risk,” store owner Brad Major said.

All the while, both Brad and partner Rachael have had other jobs on their hands as well.

“We’ve had our two kids here in the office while they’re doing their schooling from home,” he said.

“It’s come with it’s challenges, but they’ve managed to get their work done with time to keep active by playing basketball amongst the stock in storeroom.”

The crew have been overwhelmed by the community’s support.

“We want to thank the members of the community who have been sending in cards, chocolates and even shouting them coffee as a thank you for their hard work during the crisis,” he said. We Cant wait for the day we don’t have to distance ourselves from the people we see every day.

And while COVID-19 continues, the team would like to continue to keep locals safe.

“We would like to remind everyone to please keep doing the right thing as the pandemic isn’t over yet,” he said. Our deliveries are still available Monday to Friday, the orders need to be in before 11.00am for same day Deliveries.

Orders can be phoned in or emailed through.

“We will continue to work hard to keep the store clean and sanitised and keep the community safe.”
